

FROM THE DESK OF
Calvin Ball, Howard County Executive

Dear Residents,

Welcome to the 2026 Parents Guide to Howard County, a comprehensive resource created with Howard County parents, grandparents, caregivers and guardians in mind. Our Department of Community Resources and Services (DCRS) and its Office of Children and Families (OCF) have included vital information and local resources which support local families, including more than 22,545 children aged five and under. Newly updated for 2026, the Guide can help you find childcare options, locate County services or identify family supports and programs to help your children live their best lives in Howard County.

In 2025, the County supported the launch of seven new Family Child Care programs, expanding access to high-quality early learning opportunities for young children and strengthening the economic stability of Howard County families. Knowing childcare is vital to a thriving community and workforce, we added 26 professionals to expand childcare programs through our Department of Recreation and Parks, cutting waitlists by nearly 60%. With a $1 million grant and in partnership with our Economic Development Authority, we also invested in 27 independent childcare providers that will create more than 200 seats. These investments are supported by OCF's comprehensive training opportunities for childcare professionals to ensure children have safe, supportive spaces to learn and grow.

OCF also provides parent education opportunities, virtually and in-person at the Family Support center, an annual Child Care Information Fair, and digital communications like the Parent Pages newsletter. To learn more about these programs or address your family's unique needs, call the free CARE line at 410-313-CARE (2273) to speak with a member of our team. OCF's commitment to provide direct services, information, referrals, and education to residents is one of many reasons Howard County is one of the best places for families to live, work, play, grow, and thrive. By working together, we will continue to create the best opportunities for our current and future generations.

Sincerely,

 Calvin Ball

Child Care and Education

FROM THE DESK OF
Jacqueline R. Scott, DIRECTOR
Howard County Department of Community Resources and Services (DCRS)

and Erin Bonzon, ADMINISTRATOR
DCRS Office of Children and Families

Welcome to the 2026 edition of the Howard County Parents Guide. The early years of a child's life are filled with growth, discovery, and possibility — and they also come with questions, decisions, and the need for trusted support. This guide was created with families in mind, to make it easier to navigate the resources and services available throughout Howard County.

Every day, the Department of Community Resources and Services (DCRS) and the Office of Children and Families (OCF) work alongside parents, caregivers and community partners to strengthen families and support healthy child development from the very beginning. With nearly 90% of a child's brain development occurring by age five, these early years matter — and support during this time can make a lasting difference for children and families.

This Parents Guide brings together local programs, services, and opportunities designed to meet families where they are. Whether you are exploring child care options, seeking behavioral health supports, or looking for ways to learn and play together, this guide is your starting point.

Through OCF and our Family Support Center, our knowledgeable and caring staff are here to answer questions, provide guidance, and help connect you to the supports that best meet your family's needs. We are committed to ensuring that Howard County's children and the adults who care for them have the tools, resources and encouragement they need to learn, grow and thrive.

We invite you to stay connected and informed by subscribing to our monthly Parent Pages newsletter at bit.ly/HoCoSubscribe, and to reach out whenever you need support along the way.

WE LOVE HEARING FROM THE PARENTS WE SERVE...

“ Thank you so much for all the information for the past months. I have been passing what I’ve learned to my relatives with older toddlers. Your team has made so much of a difference in my life so I’m hoping my word-of-mouth will help others. Thank you! ”

Are you expecting? Are you parenting a child under age 5?

Free, home-visiting programs for families to receive information on child development; engage in educational activities with your child; and offer community resources.

Participants are also invited to attend group events and meet families from around the community.

For more information or to set up an appointment, contact us today.

As part of the Department of Community Resources and Services, the Office of Children and Families' purpose is to support the early childhood system so that children can reach their full potential.

We do this by supporting families; training/mentoring/coaching early childhood professionals; providing expert consultation on early childhood issues; creating synergies among early childhood stakeholders; aligning and maximizing resources; and implementing evidence-based programming.

Find us on Facebook: <http://www.facebook.com/HoCoCommunity>. We post updates on training classes, upcoming events and reminders about parent workshops on the Department of Community Resources and Services (DCRS) Facebook page.

You will also find posts from DCRS' seven additional offices, including:

- Office of ADA Coordination
- Office on Aging and Independence
- Office of Community Partnerships
- Office of Disability Services
- Office of Human Trafficking Prevention
