

CURRENT DEFINITION

Disability Review Board:

The group of three individuals comprised of:

- The Chief of Benefits and Records, County Office of Human Resources (as Chairperson)
- The Risk Management Administrator, or designee
- A peer of the applicant for disability retirement, as follows: A representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 3085, a representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 3080, OR a representative of the general employee population selected by the Human Resources Administrator. The peer may only consider the disability application of a member of his or her employee group. Peer representatives serving on the Disability Review Board may not simultaneously serve on the Retirement Plan Committee.

PROPOSED DEFINITION

Disability Review Board:

The group of three individuals comprised of:

- The Human Resources Administrator, or designee
- The Risk Management Administrator, or designee
- A peer of the applicant for disability retirement, as follows: A representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 3085, a representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 3080, OR a representative of the general employee population selected by the Human Resources Administrator. The peer may only consider the disability application of a member of his or her employee group. Peer representatives serving on the Disability Review Board may not simultaneously serve on the Retirement Plan Committee.