

COVIDO'S & COVIDON'TS: @WORK

During COVID-19, when there is community spread, it is possible that even co-workers you know well could carry the virus without knowing it. So how can you and your colleagues work together to protect yourselves and your workplace?

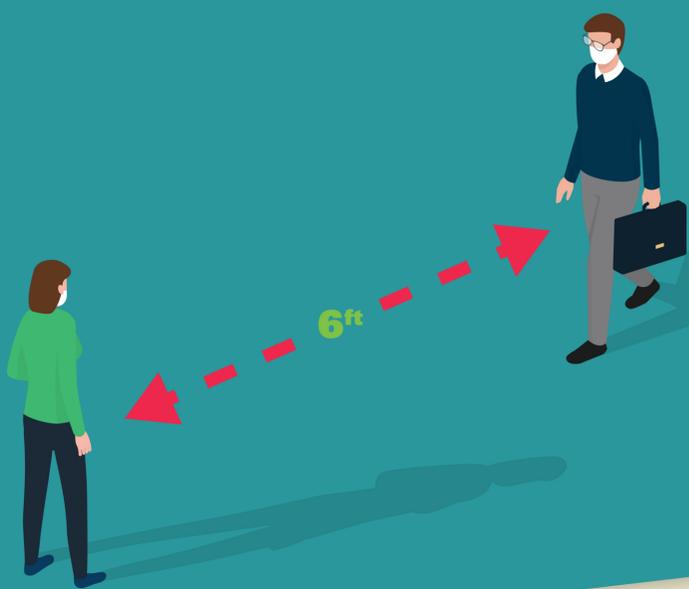

Calvin Ball
Howard County Executive

DO clean and sanitize your workspace often.

DON'T congregate in break rooms or common spaces.

DO maintain at least 6 feet of distance at all times. (No handshakes or high-fives!)

DON'T forget your masks. Every worker in the space should wear one.

DO wash your hands for at least 20 seconds or use FDA-approved hand sanitizer frequently throughout the work day.

DON'T eat together.

