13 indicted in lengthy drug investigation

Marvin Little, 30, of Laurel, charged as drug kingpin

As a result of a joint investigation that began in early 2017, the Howard County and Anne Arundel County Police Departments are announcing 13 indictments in a drug ring that was operating in both counties.

The two agencies, with additional assistance from the Laurel Police Department, conducted a lengthy investigation into a high-level cocaine and heroin distributor, Marvin Little, 30, of Laurel, operating across the central Maryland area. During the investigation, detectives served 10 search warrants, which resulted in the seizure of:

- More than $300,000 in cash
- Jewelry valued at more than $180,000
- Five vehicles
- Five handguns (one stolen)
- An assault rifle (stolen)
- Approximately 12.5 kilograms of cocaine
- Approximately 1.25 kilograms of heroin/fentanyl mix

Of the 13 indictments, all in Howard County, seven are listed below. The other names are not releasable at this time due to sealed indictments or other outstanding investigative issues.
