Howard County Recreation and Parks is accredited through the Commission for Accreditation of Park and Recreation Agencies (CAPRA). To achieve accreditation, the Department was required to meet 144 standards encompassing all operations contained in leisure services. These professional standards serve as an aid for improving performance and maintaining quality. They provide park and recreation agencies with an ability to evaluate their operation, while achieving and maintaining a level of efficiency and effectiveness. Howard County Recreation and Parks achieved accreditation in 2001 and re-accreditation in 2006 and 2012. Howard County Recreation and Parks is one of only 102 accredited agencies in the United States.

CAPRA recognizes park and recreation agencies for excellence in operation and service. Charged with providing high quality services and experiences, park and recreation agencies across the United States turn to CAPRA Accreditation as a credible and efficient means of achieving these goals, while providing assurance to the public that the agency meets national standards of best practice. CAPRA accredits departments and agencies that provide park and recreation programs and services.

Belmont Manor and Historic Park

The county exercised its right of first refusal and purchased Belmont, a National Historic Register property, from Howard Community College. Built in 1738, Belmont’s 80 acres are surrounded by Patapsco State Park and consist of a manor home, a carriage house, a cottage, a large barn, tennis courts and a pool. Howard Community College purchased Belmont in 2004 for $5.2 million, including $2.6 million in County funds. Because of the purchase agreement signed at the time, the County was able to acquire the property for $89,000.

The County will establish a schedule where there are times for public access to wander the grounds and visit the manor house. The County also intends to enter into a partnership with a local environmental organization to provide nature-based programs on site.

Belmont Manor and Historic Park will be open for weddings, conferences and other events beginning in the fall of 2014.

Recreation Highlight

Aptly named, Extreme Recess aimed to take the best part of a kid’s day, pump it up with old-school style games, sport favorites and adventure activities, and make the fun last for a whole week. An array of activities were advertised, from basketball, kickball and capture the flag to archery, kayaking and fishing. Offered Monday-Friday, 9 AM-5 PM, programming that promised a camp packed with activity that would send children home happy and excited for the next day.

A typical day at Extreme Recess consisted of full-group activities in the morning as a warm-up, group rotations for specialized activities such as fishing, archery, and kayaking, and large-group sporting events like kickball. Fittingly, there was also a “Recess” period of free play after lunch for children to pursue their own interests. Each day culminated with a trip to the pool to cool off and splash around in a less structured environment. Reality style games like “Minute to Win It” were also included on the schedule. Over the course of the week, campers were placed on teams, created team posters and t-shirts and competed in friendly team competitions on the last day of camp. This variety of structured, unstructured, large group, small group, and individual play allowed each child to find activities that resonated with his/her particular style and interests, in addition to promoting increased self-confidence and teamwork through team-building pursuits.

Marketing

The marketing division continued to grow and the process of centralizing all marketing initiatives began. The most significant step forward came in the rebidding of the printing and distribution contract for the four seasonal activity guides. Marketing elected to print with a glossy cover and direct mail to each Howard County residence, a decision that contributed to a significant increase in enrollment in FY2013.

The marketing division also began designing and printing all marketing material, from fliers and rack cards to supplementals, promotional items and more. It also began a process of streamlining marketing in the department to make it more efficient and effective.

For the first time, the marketing division took control of marketing Wine in the Woods. It designed and printed the day-of brochure, created advertising and promoted the event through its social media channels.

It was social media that grew the most in FY2013. Marketing expanded its efforts on Facebook, twitter, Pinterest and flickr, creating a bigger online footprint and increasing the department’s branding.

What’s Here...

CRICKET PITCH AT SCHOOLEY MILL PARK

The new field, roughly 300 feet in diameter, broke ground in November and opened in May. It overlays two existing multi-purpose fields in need of repair and allowed the new Howard County Cricket League to double its team capacity. To maintain the broadest usage, the new design allows the original multi-purpose fields to remain available independently, when not scheduled for cricket.

Howard County Executive Ken Ulman, Recreation & Parks Director John R. Byrd and other local officials officially launched construction of the new Troy Park at Elkridge in a ground breaking ceremony June 21 near what will be the new entrance to the park. The planned Troy Park will serve the far Eastern region of Howard County surrounding Elkridge with multiple ball fields, pavilions, playgrounds, trails and an indoor sports facility and community center. Construction encompasses multiple phases, the first of which will be completed in spring of 2014.
