Howard County Corrugated Stainless-Steel Tubing Installation

Relating to House Bill 1052

Beginning October 1, 2022 non-arc-resistant corrugated stainless-steel tubing will no longer be allowed in Maryland.

Howard County will be requiring:

1. All new corrugated stainless-steel tubing being installed will be arc-resistant
2. Howard County will still require proper bonding on arc-resistant corrugated stainless-steel tubing
3. Arc-resistant stainless-steel tubing added to an existing system without proper bonding will require the entire system to be properly bonded
4. Bonding must go the ground rod at the electric meter or into the panel box
5. Bonding to copper water pipe will not be approved
